PLENTY DECORATIONS

Franklin Company Reports
the Popularity of Inclosed

A. E. Nels, secretary of the Tulsa Automobile Dealers association reports that he has been swamped with requests during the past week for decorations from the local dealers who are getting ready to decorate their show rooms for the big enclosed car show that will be held during the week of October 15 to 21.

Several of the dealers have arranged to drive out models from the factories so that the crowds will not be disappointed in seeing the very latest in closed jobs. Tulsa's first dealers' enclosed car show has attracted the attention of the automobile owners in Tulsa's trade district and a banner crowd will be in attendance. The fact that each dealer will have arranged to take care of a large number of visitors during this week and that many novel features of the automobile industry will be on exhibit should make this week one of the banner weeks in local automobile history.

Beautiful Show Rooms.
No expense has been spared to give the visitors and the local auto owners one of the best individual show rooms ever given in the state. Word has just been received that several of the largest manufacturers of automobiles in the United States have made requests that Nels reserve them large show space for the big automobile show that will be held in the latter part of February.

This is the first time in the history of the local auto dealers association life that the National Automobile Manufacturers association has been interested to the extent that they have requested space to be reserved for them. Many accessories and parts companies have written to the secretary and from the outlook at this time, Tulsa's seventh show will be better and larger than ever before.

The popularity of the enclosed type of auto strikingly evidenced by figures just prepared by officials of the Franklin Automobile company, showing that during the year ending September 1, of the total number of cars shipped, aggregating 7,339 in all 37.7 per cent were sedans. Over half of the cars shipped during that period—52.7 per cent to be exact—were closed cars, consisting of sedans, coupes, touring limousines and broughams. The sedan, however, continues to be the leader, as it was the pioneer, among Franklin closed cars, 76.4 per cent of all closed cars shipped during the past year being sedans. During the two-year period ending September 1, a total of 7,625 sedans have been shipped from the Franklin factory.

You'll find that it's more convenient to keep well than to get well—and less expensive.

SUNDAY DINNER MENU.
Canape of Smoked Salmon
Celery, Tomato Bisque, Imperial
Sticks Broiled Steak, Broiled
Potatoes, Cold Slaw
Ginger Cakes, Orange Sauce
Coffee

Canape of Smoked Salmon.
Cut stale bread in one-fourth inch slices, then cut each slice into two-inch squares. Toast them to a nice golden color or a n 4 lightly butter; cover them with very thin slices of smoked salmon, nicely trim and sprinkle with yolk of hard-boiled egg which has been forced through a strainer. Garnish with lemon quarters and sprigs of parsley.

Tomato Bisque.
Mix one and one-half cups canned tomatoes, one-half medium-sized onion, sliced, four cloves, eight peppercorns, one sprig parsley and one bay leaf, bring to the boiling point, let simmer 20 minutes, then rub through a sieve. Add one teaspoon sugar, one-fourth teaspoon soda, one teaspoon salt. Melt three tablespoons butter and blend with it three tablespoons flour, and pour on, while constantly stirring, the hot mixture. Pour into one quart of scalded milk and serve immediately.

Broiled Steak.
Select a porterhouse steak cut one and one-quarter inches thick. Lightly flatten and trim all around. Mix on a plate one tablespoon oil, one teaspoon salt and one-half teaspoon pepper; repeatedly turn the steak in the seasoning, arrange on broiler and broil for 12 minutes on each side. Remove to hot plate, place smothered onion over the steak and serve.

Smothered Onions.
Peel and cut in halves four large white onions, slice very thin, then season with one-half teaspoon salt and one-half teaspoon white pepper. Heat three tablespoons butter in a saucepan, add the onions, cover the pan closely, cook over flame for five minutes, then set in the oven and cook for 35 minutes.

Broiled Potatoes.
Cook six medium-sized potatoes in their skins; cool, peel and cut them in halves lengthwise. Put two tablespoons melted butter on a plate, add one-half teaspoon salt.

Orange Sauce.
Mix one cup granulated sugar, two tablespoons flour and one-eighth teaspoon salt; add slowly, while stirring constantly, one cup boiling water. Cook five minutes; remove from fire, add two tablespoons butter and one-half cup orange juice. Strain and serve hot.

Ginger Cakes With Orange Sauce.
Cream four tablespoons butter with four tablespoons brown sugar, then add gradually one-half cup molasses and beat thoroughly. Mix one and one-half cups flour, one teaspoon soda, one-half teaspoon cinnamon, one tablespoon ginger and one-eighth teaspoon salt. Add to first mixture with one-half cup hot water and beat it in thoroughly. Then beat in one egg which has been beaten until very light. Turn into well-greased muffin pans and bake in moderate oven 20 minutes.

Orange Sauce.
Mix one cup granulated sugar, two tablespoons flour and one-eighth teaspoon salt; add slowly, while stirring constantly, one cup boiling water. Cook five minutes; remove from fire, add two tablespoons butter and one-half cup orange juice. Strain and serve hot.

That professional women in New York City are coming to the foreground is shown by the fact that one out of every 19 physicians and every 44 lawyers are of that sex.

HIGH SCHOOL TO DISCUSS ZONING

Tulsa's Scheme for City
Planning to Be Given
Thorough Try Out

How high does Tulsa's down-town district rate for beauty of its buildings? What are the city's needs in regard to parks and boulevards? What good would a zoning ordinance, such as that proposed by the new city plan commission, do?

These are a few of the questions that will be discussed in the study of Tulsa that is going to be conducted by Miss Ada Robinson, director of the art department at Central high school this year. Civic appreciation is a phase of the course in art appreciation that is being added to the curriculum this year, and the subject will be taught in classes for boys every Wednesday. To augment the work done in class, the boys will take pictures of Tulsa buildings, parks, residential districts, etc., and with Miss Robinson will make tours of inspection of business blocks, stores, and other places where principles and application of design can be best illustrated for them.

Street planning in relation to grading, width, connecting streets, proximity to railroads, etc., will be a part of the course. The architectural style of buildings, their relation to one another, their furnishings, maintenance and care will be discussed, and the aesthetic value of a business block in its architectural phases, vistas, etc., considered.

Parks and archways, illumination of streets, buildings and places of business, landscape gardening, the relation of one residential block to another, statuary, boulevards—these and similar problems will be considered.

"Tulsa's business blocks have some beautiful buildings but their beauty is often detracted from by the buildings that they are in proximity with," Miss Robinson said in discussing her plans. "I think that this is not so much a question of money as it is a lack of understanding of the actual value of beauty in buildings. There is not a single block down town that would receive a very high rating from an artistic viewpoint and we want to study them and learn the reasons why. We want our young people to understand what it is that the men of Tulsa's city plan commission, for instance, are going to try and do for Tulsa."

The accomplishment of other city plan commissions will be used in the class work as a basis for comparison, but Miss Robinson stressed the fact that the course centers in Tulsa and will make the study its major objective. The boys have already begun the class work and for the first few weeks are studying clothes, learning the right and wrong kind and the relation of their lines to the "architectural structure" of the individual.

While this course is being given, classes in appreciation for girls will be held, with the architecture, furnishings, interior decorating, etc., of the home emphasized.

"Look, Martha," said the daughter of the house, showing the cook a present she had received. "I intend to put this away in my hope box. You know what that is, Martha? It's a box a girl puts things into in the hope that she will some day need them as a bride."

"Lawsy, chile, I know all about dem hope boxes. I got one of my own."

"Why, I thought you were already married?"

"So I is, chile, an' my hope box is one I is puttin' money into fas' I kin until I has enough to pay for a divorcement from dat wuthless Pete Jackson. Dere a now's one kin' of hope box mixed up with matrimony, Miss Helen."—Boston Transcript.
